6. The Policy

60.1.16 CONSCIENTIOUS EMPLOYEE PROTECTION POLICY

I. Definitions

A. An employee is any individual who performs services for and under the control and direction of Rutgers University for wages or other remuneration.
B. Supervisor means any individual who has the authority to direct and control the work performance of the affected employee, or who has authority to take corrective action regarding the violation of the law, rule, or regulation of which the employee complains.

C. Retaliation is the discharge, suspension, or demotion of an employee or other adverse employment action taken against an employee in the terms and conditions of employment.

II. Scope

This Policy applies to all areas of University operations and programs and to University facilities and off-campus locations where University business is conducted. It applies to all University employees, including student employees, with respect to conduct that arises out of their employment status. Complaints by employees covered by this Policy will be addressed in accordance with this Policy.

III. Retaliatory Action Prohibited

In accordance with its obligations under N. J. Stat. Ann. § 34:19-1 et seq, Rutgers University will not take any retaliatory action against an employee because the employee does any of the following:

A. Discloses, or threatens to disclose, to a supervisor or to a public body an activity, policy, or practice of the employer or another employer, with whom there is a business relationship, that the employee reasonably believes is in violation of a law, or a rule or regulation issued under the law, or, in the case of an employee who is a licensed or certified health care professional, reasonably believes constitutes improper quality of patient care;

B. Provides information to, or testifies before, any public body conducting an investigation, hearing or inquiry into any violation of law, or a rule or regulation issued under the law by the employer or another employer, with whom there is a business relationship, or, in the case of an employee who is a licensed or certified health care professional, provides information to, or testifies before, any public body conducting an investigation, hearing or inquiry into quality of patient care; or

C. Objects to, or refuses to participate in, any activity, policy or practice which the employee reasonably believes:

1. is in violation of a law, or a rule or regulation issued under the law, or, if the employee is a licensed or certified health care professional, constitutes improper quality of patient care;

2. is fraudulent or criminal; or

3. is incompatible with a clear mandate of public policy concerning the public health, safety or welfare or protection of the environment.

IV. Notification Procedures

An employee is protected against retaliation when he or she does the following:

A. The employee brings the activity, policy, or practice in violation of a law, rule or regulation to the attention of his or her supervisor or the Vice President for Faculty and Staff Resources as required under CEPA.
B. The employee gives Rutgers University a reasonable opportunity to correct the activity, policy or practice.

V. Disclosure of Illegal Activity

If the notification that the employee provides meets the criteria under CEPA, the Vice President for Faculty and Staff Resources will direct that the disclosure be investigated. Corrective action will be taken if the results of the investigation reveal that illegal or fraudulent activity occurred.

CEPA does not entitle the employee making the disclosure to be informed of the results of the investigation.

VI. Confidentiality

To the extent permitted by law, Rutgers University will maintain the confidentiality of investigations conducted pursuant to this policy, including the identity of the employee who makes the disclosure. To facilitate employee reports of suspected financial wrongdoing, University maintains an anonymous and confidential hotline through a third party vendor. Reports may be filed by phone at 1 800 215-9664 or on line at: http://generalcounsel.rutgers.edu/compliance/rutgers-compliance-hotline.

VII. Retaliation Complaint and Investigation Procedure

Employees who believe they have been retaliated against should notify the Vice President for Faculty and Staff Resources at 848-932-3020. Claims of retaliation for taking actions protected under CEPA will be investigated under the direction of the Vice President for Faculty and Staff Resources.
