II. INVESTMENT POLICIES AND OBJECTIVES

A. General Investment Philosophy

Providing for future spending needs while meeting current spending needs is the objective of the ~~eEndowment~~.

1. Time Horizon: The ~~eEndowment~~ has a long-term investment horizon and serves as a perpetual asset to the University. ~~n infinite life.~~

2. Return: The long-term objective minimum need of the Endowment is to achieve a total return averaging at least the spending policy plus inflation, net of fees and expenses rate of 4.00% plus inflation, fees, and costs. Returns experienced in excess of this amount will provide for the long-term growth of the eEndowment. ~~The annual spending policy is to spend an amount not to exceed 4.95% of a trailing 13-quarter average of the Endowment's market values. This 4.95% includes a 0.95% allocation for foundation administration expenses.~~
3. Risk: The overall level of risk in the endowment university's investment portfolio will be primarily mitigated by attention to asset allocation. The focus is on overall portfolio risk, not risk related to specific asset classes.
4. Taxes: The eEndowment is owned by a tax-exempt organization.
5. Liquidity: The endowment has a long-term investment horizon with relatively low liquidity needs. For this reason, the endowment can tolerate short- and intermediate-term volatility provided that long-term returns meet or exceed its investment objective. ~~Due to a long-term investment horizon and below average liquidity needs of the Endowment, the Investment Committee will allow for an above-average level of risk and illiquidity of the portfolio. At times, cash may be required to satisfy the needs of the Endowment, yet there is no defined allocation to cash in the Investment Policy Allocation. Therefore, it is expected that the Endowment should have sufficient liquid assets to meet all spending and capital-call needs.~~

B. ~~Return Measurement Objectives~~

The investment objectives of the eEndowment are based upon a long-term investment horizon allowing short-term interim fluctuations to be viewed in an appropriate perspective. ~~While there cannot be complete assurance that the defined objectives will be realized, it is believed that the likelihood of their realization is enhanced by the Investment Policy Statement of the Endowment.~~

Over time, the eEndowment will aim to achieve its the return goal while maintaining acceptable risk levels. To accomplish this goal, the eEndowment will diversify its assets among several asset classes. ~~(See Appendix A). A provides permissible asset classes and appropriate index measures of these classes. Active managers will be expected to provide returns greater than or equal to their appropriate benchmark while utilizing acceptable risk levels as considered for five years or a full market cycle.~~

All return objectives described are understood to be net of (after) management expenses.

1. Investment portfolio assets should return, over the time horizon, an annualized nominal rate of return greater than or equal to the long-term return objective ~~plus the rate of inflation, after all management expenses~~.
2. Investment portfolio assets should return, ~~over rolling thirty-six month periods~~, a nominal rate of return greater than or equal to a composite index created by combining various indices (Appendix A) in the same proportion as the Endowment's policy allocation (described in the Asset Allocation section II.E).
3. ~~Each investment manager should return, over rolling thirty-six month periods, a net nominal rate of return greater than or equal to the appropriate market index for that asset class (Appendix A), with not more than commensurate risk.~~

~~Volatility and Risk~~

C.

~~The return objectives can be achieved while assuming acceptable risk levels commensurate with "market" volatility. "Market" volatility is defined as the trailing three-year standard deviation of investment returns (based on monthly data) of the benchmark indices deemed appropriate.~~

~~The Risk is defined as the probability of failing to meet the eEndowment's return objectives within a long-term framework over the time horizon. Therefore, in order to minimize the probability of failure, thereby minimizing risk, the following variables related to risk should be considered in all aspects of the investment decision-making process with regards to the Endowment's investable assets:~~

1. Asset/Style Allocation
2. Volatility
3. Risk of Loss
4. Correlation
- 4.5. Liquidity Requirements

C.D. Spending Policy

The purpose of the ~~eEndowment Fund~~ is to provide funding, in perpetuity, for programs of the university. The amount of this funding each year, referred to as the spending allowance, is determined either in accordance with donor-designated rules, or in the absence of such rules, by the Boards' Spending Policy. The Boards have selected a spending rate of 4.00% of the average of the trailing 13 ~~quarter~~ quarter-end ~~eEndowment~~ market values as being appropriate for sustaining the purchasing power of the ~~eEndowment~~ and yet still providing the funding for which the ~~eEndowment~~ was established. ~~_____The annual spending policy also is to spend an amount not to exceed 4.95% which includes a 0.95% allocation for foundation administration expenses. This spending rate will be reviewed at least periodically annually by the Committee in light of evolving trends with respect to investment returns and the rate of inflation. Adjustments will be made when appropriate. When considering the investment performance of the Endowment, the Boards will consider the total returns of the Endowment, including dividends on stock, interest on fixed-income securities, and capital gains, both realized and unrealized.~~

D.E. Asset Allocation

The single most important decision, which affects the ~~eEndowment~~, is the asset allocation decision. Investment research has determined that a significant portion of an ~~eEndowment's~~ investment behavior can be attributed to (1) the asset classes/styles, which are employed by the Endowment; and (2) the weighting of each asset class/style. Given its importance, the policy asset allocation will be reviewed at least annually and revised as necessary.

The target asset allocation is based on a comprehensive allocation study completed by the ~~Endowment Office and the Investment Consultant~~. The target asset allocation of the ~~eEndowment~~ is designed to give balance to the overall structure of the Endowment's investment program over a long-term horizon. Asset allocation decisions will not be based on market timing. ~~However, some factors may impact the policy allocation, thereby requiring an asset allocation review and possible rebalancing. Some of these factors include a change in the assessment of the intermediate or long-term outlook for different types of asset classes and styles or divergence in the performance of the different asset classes and styles.~~

The ~~endowment's~~ current long-term asset allocation framework is ~~target and ranges for the Endowment~~ are illustrated in Appendix AB.

E.F. Portfolio Rebalancing

Since asset allocation is the most critical component of the Endowment's return, the portfolio will be rebalanced as needed, at least annually. In addition, the Endowment will be rebalanced in the event any asset class allocation differs from policy by more than 20% of the target weight, but with a 2% minimum deviation threshold (before rebalancing is required). Alternative asset classes may require a longer period of time to achieve target allocation.

F.G. Impermissible Investments

From time to time, the ~~Investment Joint Committee on Investments~~ may decide to recommend that the university does not desire to hold investments in specifically designated companies, types of companies, or companies located or doing business in certain countries or regions. Generally speaking, the policy of the ~~Investment Committee JCOI~~ will be consistent with restrictions in investments within New Jersey Statutes 52:18A-89. In addition, the Committee will consider the Rutgers University Committee on Divestment Policy Advisory Statement to the ~~Investment Joint Committee on Investments~~ included as Appendix ~~BD~~ in making recommendations under this section. Should the governing boards of the university expressly approve any restrictions on investment of the ~~e~~Endowment, such resolutions will be included as Appendix ~~CE~~ within this policy.

H. Liquidity

G.

1. ~~The endowment has a long-term investment horizon with relatively low liquidity needs. For this reason, the endowment can tolerate short- and intermediate-term volatility provided that long-term returns meet or exceed its investment objective. Consequently, the endowment may take advantage of less liquid investments, such as private equity, real estate, hedge funds, and other partnership vehicles, which typically offer higher risk-adjusted return potential as compensation for reduced liquidity. To ensure adequate liquidity for distributions and to facilitate rebalancing, the Endowment Office and the investment consultant will conduct ongoing reviews of total endowment liquidity.~~ Private Equity, Real Assets — Many of the venture capital, private equity, real estate, and commodity investments are illiquid with a general 10-12 year time horizon. These longer-lived assets have the potential to achieve superior performance relative to other equity markets over long periods of time because of the illiquidity premium of these investments. It is noted that these illiquidity premiums do fluctuate over time. With each investment, the Committee acknowledges that they expect to be unable to terminate such illiquid managers, but could sell undesirable portfolios on a secondary market should a buyer exist.

2. ~~Hedge Funds~~ — The managers grouped in this asset class may have temporarily illiquid investments from time to time. These investments usually are held in sidepocket accounts, illiquid securities owned in a separate ownership pool from the rest of the fund. Ownership in a sidepocket is fixed at the point the investment is initiated, and new investors do not participate in pre-existing sidepockets. Due to the illiquid nature of sidepocket investments, the manager does not receive an annual incentive allocation on the sidepocket, but only earns an incentive fee when an investment in a sidepocket is liquidated. Also, because of the illiquid nature of the investments, participants in a sidepocket cannot

~~redeem their interest in the sidepocket until the underlying investment becomes liquid. When a sidepocket investment is liquidated, the proceeds will be moved out of the sidepocket into the non-sidepocket accounts of the investors. These investments are expected to be accretive to return or they would not be included. It is noted that these investments could hinder the Endowment's ability to withdraw capital during times of great stress.~~

~~H. Investment Policies & Performance Goals for Investment Managers~~

~~The performance goals and constraint guidelines placed on individual managers within specific asset classes are listed in Appendix C. Investment managers may engage in securities lending to broker / dealers as a means of enhancing income. The Investment Committee shall continue to review the relative advantages of passive versus active management in the context of reduced management expenses; stable performance; and constant, complete exposure to the particular asset class with regard to the excess return provided by the individual manager.~~

APPENDIX ~~appendix~~ BD

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE ON DIVESTMENT POLICY ADVISORY STATEMENT TO THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON INVESTMENTS

The Joint Committee on Investments (“JCOI”) has asked the university administration for assistance in developing a divestment policy. In response, the administration appointed a committee composed of students, faculty, administration and board members which has developed this advisory statement for the JCOI.

As the public land-grant, research university of the State of New Jersey, the university’s mission statement recognizes that our concerns extend beyond our campuses and that the research, teaching, and service of the university addresses problems so as to benefit citizens locally, regionally, nationally and globally. The university’s mission statement may be found at <http://www.rutgers.edu/about>.

The university’s long-term financial health relies on the governing boards of the university exercising their fiduciary responsibilities to manage the endowment with reasonable care and in accordance with prudent investor standards in order to protect the university’s assets for current and future generations. The university’s investment policy governs the overall management of the endowment and may be found at <http://policies.rutgers.edu/sites/policies/files/40.2.14%20-%20current.pdf>.

Section II. H of the investment policy, “Impermissible Investments,” provides that the JCOI may decide to recommend to the governing boards that the university does not desire to hold investments in specifically designated companies, types of companies, or companies located or doing business in certain geographical regions.

The primary purpose of any divestment is to express unequivocally and publicly the university’s view on an issue rather than to bring about an economic impact through our endowment’s investment action. This advisory statement is intended to guide the decision-making of the university administration and the JCOI when considering whether to make a recommendation to the governing boards to divest from specific companies, industries, or regions. Such recommendations should be extremely rare and subject to a high standard.

The following principles should be applied when evaluating divestment recommendations:

- The divestment is consistent with the fiduciary obligation of the JCOI and the Boards;
- The behavior, action, or product in question is antithetical to the core mission or values of the university;
- The organization, industry or entity to be divested has sole or shared responsibility for the concern(s) identified;
- The concern reflects the consensus of the University community.

Divestment requests may be generated by members of the university community and should be submitted to the office of the University Secretary at this website: <http://universitysecretary.rutgers.edu/contact-us/send-message-office-secretary>. Divestment requests should address how the proposal meets the principles listed above.

The University Secretary will refer these requests to the Chair of the JCOI and the chief financial officer (“CFO”) or his/her designee.

Should the JCOI chair and the CFO or designee determine that the request does not meet all of the ~~four~~ criteria listed above, the request will not be submitted to the JCOI. Should the JCOI chair and the CFO or designee make a preliminary determination that the request appears to meet the four criteria listed above, they may at their discretion recommend that an ad hoc committee be created to consider the following issues and advise the JCOI in considering the divestment request:

- Whether there is a consensus among a wide array of stakeholders that the subject of the divestment request is a concern that affects either the university community and/or people beyond its borders;
- Whether the university community has taken action to disengage from the organization, industry or entity being considered (for example, in its purchasing decisions);
- Whether the subject of the divestment request is a social injury of such magnitude that, if not addressed, will directly affect a significant number of individuals.

In considering a divestment recommendation, the University, as a corporate body, must undertake its efforts so as to avoid making commitments to positions that may intimidate its members, produce an atmosphere of distrust and suspicion, or create obstacles to free inquiry.

The decision to divest is made solely by the Board of Governors and Board of Trustees. The JCOI, and only the JCOI, can make a divestment recommendation to the boards.

A response to a divestment request will be provided at the following points in the evaluation process:

- ~~1-~~ If the request is not referred to the JCOI;
- ~~2-~~ If the request is referred to the JCOI;
If a divestment recommendation is on the agenda of the boards for consideration.
- ~~3-~~ If the decision is negative, a response to the divestment request will be provided.

APPENDIX CE

RESOLUTION ON DIVESTMENT OF INVESTMENTS IN COMPANIES DOING BUSINESS IN SUDAN

POLICY STATEMENT REGARDING HUMANITARIAN CRISIS IN DARFUR

In recognition of the humanitarian crisis in Darfur, the university's Joint Committee on Investments is requesting that its investment advisors, fund managers, and financial consultants comply with the Policy Statement set forth below.

If there are any questions regarding the Policy Statement for its application in any one instance, please contact the Chair of the Joint Committee on Investments or the University's Senior Vice President for Finance and Administration.

This Resolution is set forth below:

WHEREAS, despite significant pressure from the United States and the world community, the human rights situation in Sudan has continued to deteriorate; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Committee on Investments has reviewed the human rights situation in Sudan and the escalating political and economic instability in that country and has determined that it would be in the best interests of the university to fully divest itself of investments in companies with operations in Sudan;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

- 1.) That the Boards of Governors and Trustees, through a recommendation issued by the Joint Committee on Investments, authorizes the university's divestiture of holdings in companies with operations in Sudan. Implementation of this measure is delegated to the Investment Committee, with the understanding that divestiture shall generally be in keeping with the so-called "targeted" divestiture approach undertaken by the State of New Jersey.
- 2.) That nothing in this resolution shall be deemed to direct the sales of holdings at an imprudent time; however, such sales shall take place as soon as prudently possible; and
